Sheer Delights

The calendar may not give official sanction . . . but as far as we're concerned . . . it's spring! With nary a trace of a robin, with California seasons scarcely distinguishable, one from another . . . there's still something in the air that spells change, awakening, romance.

Maybe it's just the yearning we hear expressed by friends and readers for a new dress, a new something in the wardrobe.

Maybe it's the inside glimpse we've been getting of springtime fashions . . . California designed ones, that is. If ever a woman had the chance to be dreamy, yummy, feminine and free, she has it now!

Fluid fabrics, floating and filmy, find their way by night and day. Souffle chiffon, sheerest voile, purest silks, all give a delightful look of a lady at her loveliest. If your wardrobe is bare of this softened look . . . if all your clothes seem stiff enough to stand at attention by themselves . . . lady, it's time indeed for a new dress.

What else is new for Spring?
Prints, prints, prints . . . as long as they're whispery soft. No shouting allowed by this year's lady-like look, either in color or fabric.

Stoles, stoles, stoles . . . returning to Southern California where they originally bloomed as a fashion must. Some stoles accompany a matching dress. Separate ones are available in neutral pastels and white . . . newer than sweaters over your sleeveless sheaths or to drape becomingly over cocktail and ball gowns.

Suits, suits, suits . . . as long as they're made of silk. Cropped jackets or long, belted, or loose . . . fine suits of Italian silk, often looking like tweed or linen, but silk nevertheless . . . will serve you well.
